

6 IRREVERSIBLE AND IRRETRIEVABLE COMMITMENT OF RESOURCES

Natural and man-made resources would be expended in the construction of the proposed action, including funding, building materials, energy, and human resources to construct the structures. All of these resources are considered irretrievably committed since once these resources are expended, redevelopment in the future is not anticipated, nor is it cost effective.